'70 Spells Success

To be a successful publication a yearbook must fulfill its obligation to the student and school. If a student, perusing his yearbook, can place himself in a scene or can enjoy an accomplishment, the yearbook has succeeded. Also, if the actions in the school by teachers, administrators, and students are correctly portrayed, then the yearbook has succeeded. We hope you will agree that the '70 REDSKIN is a SUCCESS!!

Mr. J. C. Davis

KEEL Radio's "TEACHER OF THE DAY"
January 22, 1970

OUR TEACHER OF THE YEAR

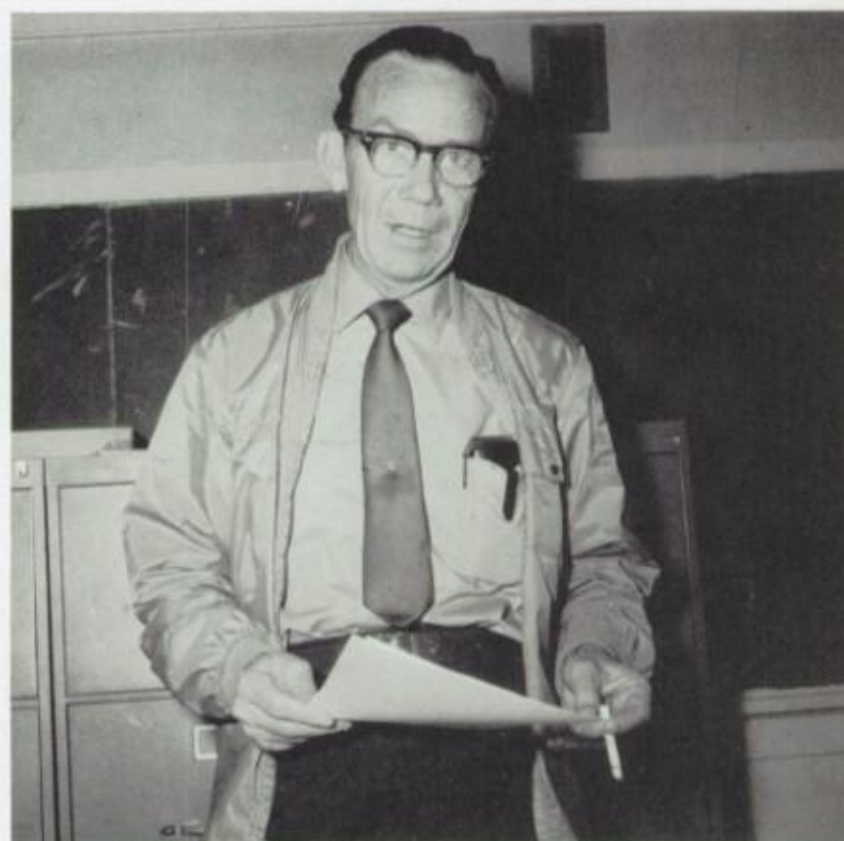

Coach . . .

As a coach he has tried to instill in each player the importance of good sportsmanship. Not only has coached both boys' and girls' basketball, and baseball; he has also given unselfishly of his time to "coach" the Student Council as their advisor.

Teacher . . .

A teacher of Louisiana History, Civics, and Physical Education, but most important, a practitioner of the standards which he teaches. By his example, he has taught many the right way. For this reason, he is respected and appreciated as a true friend by the students of Ringgold High School.

Friend . . .

To one who has long deserved the honor, we wish to dedicate THE REDSKIN. It is but a humble effort to show our appreciation for his many years of hard work and leadership.

Never before has there been anyone who was more worthy to receive this honor than . . .

Mr. J. C. Davis

I congratulate the REDSKIN staff, sponsor, and all who have worked so diligently to produce this excellent annual. Your efforts will provide many hours of pleasure for students and faculty as they remember the school days of 1969-70.

Robert H. Corley

MR. T. R. SMITH - Counselor

I consider it a privilege to be asked to make a statement in the 1970 REDSKIN.

I commend the staff for the many hours of work in producing this beautiful book without which many precious memories would be forgotten. I know that every student will be proud of his copy of this annual and of his school.

May every day bring its challenge for excellence in the life of each of us.

Sincerely,
G. E. Rogers

President has in mind or said — far from it.

A reading of a Foreign Affairs article, written by Mr. Nixon before his nomination in 1968, very clearly defines the scope of the doctrine. The President has at no time called for the complete withdrawal of American troops from Vietnam. This would be the neoisolationist principles followed throughout the Nixon administration.

ADA takes Mr. Nixon to task for lacking concern for Negroes and the poor and gives him low marks for not providing the country with the kind of leadership it needs.

ACU, on the other hand, raps the President for proposing an ambitious and expanded welfare program and says it will earn him more political enemies than friends.

Charging that Nixon is attempting to broaden his political base by appealing to the welfare class, ACU warns:

"The specific political danger to Nixon is that the middle class, which pays most of the taxes, will resent the growth of the spectacle of permanently subsidized welfare recipients. If President Nixon intends his measures as a political coup, it is apparent he is risking the core of his political strength to win only peripheral support."

ADA Viewpoint

The liberal ADA, of course, sees Richard Nixon in a different light and assesses his administration in this way:

"From its inception, the Nixon administration has pursued a political strategy designed to outflank Gov. Wallace by appealing to his supporters on racial questions."

The ADA also sees the President as not only weak in his conduct but also directed at the House, which has a record of leadership. House of Massachusetts House leader a "legislative

The end of the 1968-69 year marked the end of the 26 year reign of the "Queen of the 1st Grade." She was as much a favorite among the faculty as she was among her students. So it was only fitting that they should give a small retirement party in her favor. These snaps are of some of the faculty and friends who attended. Two of her former students, Barrie Haynie and Virginia (Kindley) Bogan were among the RHS faculty who joined in wishing the best for ...

And Finally . . . Graduation

All good things must end, and high school is no exception. Mrs. Tom Martin provided music while Jill Sherman and Mark Mitchell, Phillis Lee and Scott Davis lit the tapers. Mrs. Ellis Martin conducted the RHS Choir and Dr. B. J. Collinsworth gave the address. Valedictory and salutatory speeches were given by Kaye Eichelberger and Patsy Collinsworth, respectively.

A few songs . . . a few speeches . . . diplomas . . . many smiles . . . a few tears . . . This was graduation 1969.

Redskin Recognize . . .

those students who have been given special recognition for their extracurricular activities. We would also like to congratulate those students whom we failed to recognize on these two pages.

'Skins Capture Regional Trophy

The 'Skins ended a very successful season with the tragic defeat by Oakhill in the semifinal game. Their season record was twelve games won and four lost. Four members, Charles, Gary, Floyd, and Johnny were lost at graduation. Gary was on the All State team both of his last two years with the squad. Charles and Floyd won baseball scholarships to BCC. Richard Wiggins, who will be back with us next year, was elected to the All State team as a pitcher. I enjoyed coaching these boys and I am looking forward to a most successful season next year.

Great spirit and determination produced a very successful season for the 'SKINS. Midnight and pre-dawn practices gave evidence of the special effort it takes to make a really good team. Although we are losing our five Redskin starters at graduation, we are expecting another fine team next season.
